

A Fascinating Journey

Flagstaff Hill Probus Club members and their partners embarked on a fascinating journey through the heart of Australian democracy, enjoying a tour of Parliament House hosted by Erin Thompson MP, Member for Davenport.

Erin, acting as their insightful guide, led them through the various wings of the building, offering a behind-the-scenes glimpse into the workings of government. Their exploration culminated in a delightful afternoon tea served in the historic Old Parliament Chamber, where they savoured the grandeur of the setting and lively conversation.

The excitement continued as the group secured seats in the public gallery to witness Question Time firsthand. The lively exchanges and passionate debates truly brought the democratic process to life, proving to be quite entertaining for the Probus members. To their surprise and delight, their presence was even acknowledged by the Speaker of the House, adding a special touch to their already memorable experience.
